

Dustin Corcoran

Chief Executive Officer

---

Dustin Corcoran is Chief Executive Officer for the California Medical Association (CMA), a non-profit professional organization of over 43,000 physicians dedicated to protecting public health and promoting the science and art of medicine. As CEO, Mr. Corcoran has the responsibility for the overall supervision, direction and control of the business and staff of CMA.

Mr. Corcoran has advocated tirelessly for California physicians and the patients that they serve since 1998. He started at CMA as the membership coordinator for the association's political action committee. Within a year, Mr. Corcoran moved to CMA's Center for Government Relations, where he worked under the guidance of the legendary Steve Thompson as a staff lobbyist. When Mr. Thompson passed away in 2004, Dustin succeeded him as Vice President of Government Relations, where he managed CMA's overall legislative program, representing physicians' interests before the State Legislature and the Governor. In 2009, Mr. Corcoran was promoted to Senior Vice President, where he oversaw the day-to-day operations of CMA, as well as the Center for Government Relations, and ultimately became CEO in February of 2010.

Dustin's career has been marked by years of leadership, service and entrepreneurship

- Since 2009, Mr. Corcoran has been listed annually on Capitol Weekly's top 100 power brokers in California – most recently, in 2016, listed at number 23.
- In 2012, Mr. Corcoran's work as CMA's chief executive officer was recognized when he was named to the Sacramento Business Journal's "40 Under 40" list of top business and civic leaders.
- In 2014, Mr. Corcoran chaired the campaign to defeat Proposition 46, successfully protecting the Medical Injury Compensation Reform Act (MICRA) from an attack by the trial lawyers.
- In 2016, Mr. Corcoran spearheaded the launch of a startup company dedicated to providing physicians the population health tools and services necessary to embrace value-based contracts.
- Also in 2016, Mr. Corcoran was co-chair of the coalition to pass Prop. 56, raising California's tobacco tax by $2 per pack to invest in Medi-Cal, save lives, reduce smoking rates, prevent thousands of children from starting in the first place, and triple the funding for California's anti-smoking programs.
- Mr. Corcoran serves on the Board of Directors for the Neuropathy Action Foundation, Physicians Advocacy Institute, Physicians Foundation, Institute for Medical Quality, California Medical Association Foundation and Street Soccer USA: Sacramento.

Mr. Corcoran earned a Master's in Business Administration (MBA) from the University of Southern California Marshall School of Business. He lives in Sacramento with his wife, Glenda, and their children, daughter Dylan and son Fletcher.